IT'S A FACT:

Nearly 70% of Washington State students receive financial aid.

The Associate Degree Nursing program is fully approved by the Ohio Board of Nursing, and provides an excellent foundation for a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing (B.S.N.).

Washington State Community College also offers courses that may transfer to BSN programs.

Associate Degree Nursing Traditional

THE PROGRAM:

The Associate of Applied Science degree (AAS) in Nursing provides classroom and clinical experiences to prepare graduates to become exemplary members of the health care team. Graduates of the Associate Degree Nursing program are eligible to take the National Council Licensure Exam for Registered Nurses (NCLEX-RN). Registered Nurses provide ongoing patient care and support, promote healthy lifestyles, and coordinate all aspects of patient care in acute and long-term care facilities, as well as other community settings.

Admission to the ADN program is a selective process; students accepted for college admission must complete an additional program application for consideration. The curriculum includes general education, natural sciences, and nursing courses. If the student chooses, non-nursing courses may be completed before beginning the nursing curriculum. All nursing courses must be completed in sequence within three years of the start of the program. If the sequence is interrupted, the student may apply for readmission to the program (See Student Handbook). A grade of "C" or better is required in all support courses; a grade of "B" or better is required in all ADN courses.

The Associate Degree Nursing program offers both educational and career mobility. In addition to a broad range of employment opportunities, graduates may choose to advance their nursing education through baccalaureate (BSN) or advanced practice (MSN) programs.

CAREER SKILLS:

In addition to knowledge gained in nursing courses, graduates of the Associate Degree Nursing program gain valuable career skills for the health care environment. The graduate will demonstrate competence, caring, and critical thinking skills in providing safe, effective nursing care. The graduate will also demonstrate personal behaviors consistent with professional and employer expectations for the Registered Nurse.
